Protocol And Statistical Analysis Plan for guided behavioural activation in major depressive disorder: a health-system perspective

Abstract

an outpatient research network tested guided behavioural activation for adults with major depressive disorder. Participants will be recruited within a pragmatic network of hospital and community providers; the planned sample is 91 and depressive symptom severity is the principal endpoint. The protocol prespecifies safety, adherence, and quality-of-life measures and describes procedures for missing observations. Interpretation is limited by attrition and the pragmatic delivery setting. The analysis was designed to reflect the decisions faced by clinicians in routine practice. This report is from a parallel-group randomized controlled trial comparing Control: routine care vs Intervention: mindfulness sessions + educational material.
