Methods Paper Describing The Trial Framework for guided behavioural activation in major depressive disorder: a mixed-methods implementation report researchers evaluated guided behavioural activation for adults with major depressive disorder. Participants will be recruited across community services and outpatient practices; the planned sample is 163 and depressive symptom severity is the principal endpoint. The protocol prespecifies safety, adherence, and quality-of-life measures and describes procedures for missing observations. The findings should be considered alongside short follow-up and incomplete adherence data. The report discusses how missing observations may affect interpretation of the final estimates. This report is from a parallel-group randomized controlled trial comparing Control: routine care vs Intervention: inhaled anti-inflammatory therapy + pharmacist medication review.

Abstract
